THE CHILIAN REVOLUTION.

Puente de Inca, 27—Advices are every moment expected of a serious encounter between the contending forces in the North. According to the latest despatches a sanguinary fight took place outside Pisagua. General Urrutia commanded the revolutionists. The results of the fight, however, are not yet known.

The Arrate, Robles and Gana divisions have formed a junction in the North, and are marching on Iquique, which they expect to retake from the revolutionists. Colonel Acerreca's forces, which were landed by the Imperial at Antofagasta, are also marching on Iquique. So that a desperate struggle is anticipated.

It is believed the fleet are blockading Arica.

The revolutionists have appointed Mr. David Mac Iver Intendente of Iquique. The ex-Intendente, Mr Salinas, is supposed to have taken refuge on board an English gunboat.

The British merchants are very much alarmed at the losses occasioned by the bombardment.

Nothing fresh from Pisagua.

THE BATEMAN LEGACY.

The public is beginning to feel a little uneasy about the termination of the City Improvement Works, which have already taken 20 years in construction and caused an outlay of about six millions sterling. There is a general wish that the works should be completed before the close of the 19th century, and it is asserted on good authority that a further outlay of three millions sterling will be sufficient. A rumor is even current that a sum of £2,200,000 would be enough, and that Baring Brothers agreed to complete them for this amount.

Ten years ago we heard the same story, and were assured that the works would be completed in a couple of years. Such promises, as often happens in this country, were devoid of foundation. We merely recall the fact to shew that this Bateman Legacy seems interminable and has imposed a tremendous burthen on the people of our city.

When Mr Bateman commenced the works he was in the prime of life and had earned a well-deserved reputation by his waterworks at Glasgow and Dublin. He died an old man, leaving the works unfinished and the name of the Bateman Legacy a by word among the people of Buenos Ayres.

There has been a kind of evil genius about these works from the outset. London papers assure us that they were intimately connected with the collapse of Baring Brothers. Is it any wonder that a vague apprehension has seized the inhabitants of our city that no man or woman now living may see their completion?

DUTIES ON WOOL.

We take from the New York Commercial Bulletin an extract showing how seriously Buenos Ayres is prejudiced by the present Customs-dues in North America. At the same time we read in the Prensa of yesterday that Brazil has concluded a most advantageous treaty of commerce with the U. States, whereby coffee, sugar etc. are admitted almost free of duty into the latter country. Would it not be well for Pres Pellegrini to despatch a special envoy to the U. States to make some arrangement as to reforming the tariffs? Dr. Jose F. Lopez, recently returned from Switzerland, would be a very suitable person.

The extract to which we allude is as follows:—

"We are in receipt, says the Boston Journal of Commerce, of two samples of the new season's Buenos Ayres wool from Bradford, Eng. It is this wool that our manufacturers should have, but cannot get on account of the tariff on such imports. To this extent is our woolen industry placed at a disadvantage as compared with the woolen industry of England and of the Continent. The absence of American competition for these heavy shrinkage wools allows of their purchase by foreign manufacturers at comparatively low prices, which are manifest in the low cost of goods that are exported to this country. It is these wools that our manufacturers should have for their proper diversification. In this fact alone lies no little of the depression in trade which afflicts the woolen industry to-day. The wool represented by the samples at hand, good for combing, in one instance, and clothing in the other instance, can be got up, scoured, in England, at 36 to 40 cents a pound. This includes original cost, freight and all other charges, scouring, etc. The same wool in this country would cost seventy cents, or more, per clean pound, on account of the customs duty alone."

SAN FERNANDO.

This charming suburb has been this summer a favourite resort of the wealth, fashion and beauty of Portena society. The carnival was on a scale of lavish expenditure nowise in keeping with the present monetary crisis. In fact the townspeople and shopkeepers say they do not feel the crisis until they have occasion to buy European goods. A casual visitor is struck by the costly character of the country houses, some of which are palaces, such as that of Don Angel Sastre or the imposing "chateau" that is being built west of the Plaza. Many of these edifices are finished in a style far surpassing anything to be seen at Brighton, Sydenham or Wimbledon, and equal to the most tasteful that are admired in Champs Elysees. Elegance and refinement are, moreover, displayed in the arrangement of the pleasure-grounds, and nothing can be finer than the equipages that one sees in the Plaza, of an evening, or taking the families to Mass on Sundays.

The Plaza is laid out as a park, well cared, the flower-beds making a handsome show. On the east side is the church, dedicated to San Fernando and kept in the most excellent order and neatness: the parish priest, Canon Vasquez, is much esteemed and has been here 12 years. On the south side of the plaza stands the Cabildo, a beautiful structure: here the municipal fathers meet under Mr. Villalonga, the despatch agent of Buenos Ayres. In the lower part of the building is a free library, the books of which are free to all readers from 11 to 4 daily, and may be taken to one's house on payment of a subscription of 50 cents a month. The upper storey is a magnificent ball-room, 80 feet in length; the walls ornamented with portraits of Argentine statesmen, from Rivadavia to Sarmiento. Among the oldest residents in San Fernando is Don Cayetano Cazon, who was many years Chief of Police, an incorruptible and zealous public servant of the old school.

Although the San Fernandinos have expended at least £300,000 sterling in erecting these summer palaces they have not paid much attention to their streets. They content themselves with providing watering carts, which are certainly a boon, in keeping down the dust. Waterworks supply the town from the Parana.

The market is well supplied with meat, fruit and vegetables; the pears and melons could not be surpassed. There is, moreover, an unfailing supply of fish from the Parana, as well as of eggs and butter. House rent is cheap, but there are few houses to be had for visitors. The population by last census was 9,200, and it is found that in summer about 3,000 visitors come. One is surprised to learn that there are only 3 physicians here—a proof that the town is healthy. The population is mixed with a sprinkling of Italians, Spaniards and French, and so orderly and law-abiding that the police have an easy time. The policemen have an air of respectability about them that is unhappily not general in the Argentine Republic: there is, moreover, everything to impress the visitor that the local authorities in San Fernando understand their business and neglect nothing.

The shops are well stocked, and prices sometimes less than in Buenos Ayres. One of the principal is in the plaza, and the owner resided so long in England that he would pass for an Englishman. The civility of the shopkeepers is by no means one of the smallest charms of the place.

As San Fernando stands fully 30 feet above water level there are no mosquitoes. Visitors will find admirable accommodation at the Hotel de la Paz, which is kept by Mr. Cartier, and leaves nothing to be desired for neatness, civility and cuisine.

MAILS FROM CHILE.

DETAILS OF THE REVOLUTION.

Valparaiso Feb. 14th.

When the Coquimbo passed Pisagua the situation of the inhabitants is represented as deplorable. Everybody who could do so took refuge on board vessels in the harbour and even in lighters and boats. The Coquimbo landed some of the refugees at Huanillos and Antofagasta, the only article in the possession of many of them, besides the clothing they had on, being the keys of their houses.

Charqui was selling at two dollars and a half a pound at Pisagua and at the nitrate works in the interior on the 3rd instant.

The Comercio of Antofagasta says the hills at Pisagua, where they are crossed by the railway, are covered with dead bodies which are being devoured by vultures. The paper in question says the stories of the sufferings of the refugees, and the accounts of cruelties perpetrated, are harrowing in extreme.

The steamers Arequipa and Ecuador landed their Taltal cargo at Antofagasta.

The Huascar and the Cachapoal arrived at Taltal on the 23rd ult. and demanded the surrender of the place, which was defended by 25 men only of the Buin battalion under Lieut. Saavedra. The Governor, don Marcos Solar, seems to have been only too willing to surrender the place and he ordered Lieut. Saavedra to surrender himself and his men. This the gallant officer refused to do, and he started with his men to cross the desert to Antofagasta, where there is a detachment of the Buin, a distance of 75 leagues. Rather than surrender, the commandant of police and five of his men joined the soldiers. The news of their intended departure was telegraphed to Antofagasta, and a special train was sent to Playa Blanca to meet them, and they arrived at Antofagasta on the 28th ult., at 11 a.m. Before leaving Taltal they exchanged shots with the police who refused to accompany their commander and some revolutionists, but they appear to have been afraid to come to close quarters with the veteran soldiers, who met with a warm reception on their arrival at Antofagasta. Lieut Saavedra has been promoted to rank of captain, and even his foes must admit that he has gained his reward in a very determined and gallant matter.

During the fighting in Coquimbo, a custom-house employe, named Juan Provost, was shot through the left lung and he died shortly afterwards.

The Voz de Ovalle says the revolutionary force which operated against Ovalle consisted of 80 sailors under the orders of Don Alfredo Delano, the other officers being Necochea and Bezanilla. They arrived at Ovalle station on the 14th ult., and they entered the town at 6 p.m., and Delano proceeded, at once, to appoint Don Alfredo Cañas Governor of the Department, and to instal his men in barracks. Not long afterwards armed commissioners set out to requisition horses, and they returned with a good number of fine animals. All the public employees were dismissed from office, and the Voz says that two or three persons were wantonly shot by the revolutionists, and it gives a long list of property stolen and destroyed, which is probably exaggerated. On the 17th, at 5 p.m., the revolutionists evacuated the city, but on the 23rd they re-occupied it, and they evacuated it for good on the evening of the 24th, and next day the Government troops entered the town. In the fight at Angostura, a lieutenant of the revolutionary party, named Juan Miguel Koster, was killed. He was of German extraction, and Mr. Franz Henckens, a German by birth, gave the body a decent burial. Twenty-two men of the revolutionary party were made prisoners at Angostura.

On the 31st ultimo potatoes were selling at Antofagasta at 25 dollars a sack. The Arequipa and the Ecuador took there, however, large quantities of produce of all kinds, and on the 2nd instant the price of potatoes had fallen to 7 dollars a bag, and onions were fetching 3 dollars a hundred.

The Cachapaol put into Huanillos on the 27th ult. and landed, with the permission of the authorities, 40 refugees from Pisagua. On the following day the same vessel put into Tocopilla and lowered boats which were filled with armed men. The diminutive force of fourteen men opposed a landing, but they were overpowered and had to withdraw, and the revolutionists took possession of the place.

A Red Cross Hospital has been established at Iquique and it was inaugurated with wounded from Pisagua. — Chilian Times.

BRITISH AND AMERICAN BENEVOLENT SOCIETY

Report for the year 1890 for presentation to a general meeting of subscribers to be held on the 3rd of March, 1891, at the British Consulate, at four p.m.

The society has continued its work of charity during the past year and has been the means of relieving many deserving cases of distress. In grants of money, payments for board and lodging, rent of rooms, medicine, etc., it has expended $4516.

This relief has been distributed to two hundred and fifty persons. In addition, passages to England have been provided for fifteen adults and eight children at a cost of 1458 dollars. This is more than double the relief afforded in the previous year.

Subscriptions and donations amounted to 2123 dollars and show an increase of 518 dollars over 1889. This would not have sufficed to cover the increased outlay, but fortunately for the society, the Amateur Dramatic Club came to its assistance and handed in the handsome donation of 1869 dollars m/l, being one-third of the net proceeds of a performance of "Our Boys." The members of the U.S.S. Tallapoosa Minstrel Troupe and other amateurs also gave a performance which realised four hundred and sixty-four dollars, and great thanks are due to them all, also to the STANDARD and Herald newspapers for free insertion of permanent advertisement.

The balance in the hands of the honorary Treasurer on the 31st of December was 987 dollars, but this has been reduced to two hundred and sixty-two dollars by subsequent payments.

The Immigrants brought to this country by the Argentine Government in 1889 continue to form the bulk of persons in distress, but the society affords continuous relief to four old and infirm persons.

Fourteen persons were granted loans to the amount of $250 m/c, but, as was to be expected, only $5 has been repaid.

The Committee repeat their caution against indiscriminate alms-giving, as they know of many "dead beats" who make a living by relating their imaginary woes to charitably disposed persons, varying their story as occasion requires.

Such cases should be referred to the Society.

There are seven ex-officio members of committee, and seven others have to be elected by the suscribers from among their number.

The committee would remind those with whom it is difficult to come in contact, that donations, however small, can be sent to any of the undersigned

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

GENERAL TOPICS.

January 30th.

Charles Bradlaugh died this morning at half past six. He had been seriously ill for some days, and finally dropped into an unconscious state, from which, with only here and and there an occasional gleam of revival, he never recovered. The son of a poor solicitor's clerk, he was born in Huxton in 1833 and was therefore only 58, and of such an athletic build that he might have hoped to live many years. Although a Radical and comparatively young he was of an old political school that the world knoewth no more. His Radicalism was of 40 years ago, and his aggressive scepticism in religion was redolent of the raw awakening of half-educated minds reared in Mechanics' Institutes. He was utterly out of date; and amongst his fellow-radicals passed for a Conservative. He had been errand-boy, solicitor's drudge, coal merchant and dragoon. Temperate and studious, with great capacity and a strong will, he must have been accustomed to feel his superiority to his companions and to have acquired a notion of infallibility. After his youth of poverty and striving he donned a suit of sleek black broadcloth, which he never abandoned even when fishing, which was his one recreation.

* * *

It is remarkable that when Bradlaugh was lying unconscious and at death's door one day this week there occurred in the House of Commons a scene that will be held as historical. Mr Hunter moved "That the resolution of the House of the 22nd day of June 1880"—that briefly Mr Bradlaugh should not be permitted to take oath or make affirmation—should be expunged.

The curt parliamentary reports you are likely to see will tell you that Mr Hunter's motion with a slight amendment was agreed to without a division. Those who saw and heard what took place will tell you that the House was intensely excited and that the scene was, as already said, in all respects remarkable and historic.

* * *

A rumour was current at the beginning of the week that Mr. Gladstone intended to retire from public life. A contradiction came from the Press Association in the usual vague terms that no such steps was contemplated by the R. Hon. gentleman unless events took a certain turn. Well, as a matter of fact, events have taken a turn in another direction and for the better. Dalziel's telegram was right in the main. From the evident lull in the contest between the Parnellites and Nationalists the Irish leaders did come to some sort of agreement at Boulogne. The money question must be settled; perhaps by dividing the stakes. What comes after depends upon the Irish people. Mr. McCarthy has just said in Manchester that the English people need not be afraid; the Irish party will settle its own differences. The leaders are now all in London. Mr. Healy from Dublin and Mr. Parnell from Ennis arrived here yesterday and have been in the House. It must be said that in the Echo and other Unionist papers there seems to be a sidling up towards Home Rule of a certain pattern. If Mr. Parnell and his hill-side friends will only be prudent, it matters not what kind of Home Rule the English people affect at present.

* * *

The Financial News says; "The Cedula conversion scheme has been shipwrecked by the refusal of the Argentine holders of those bonds who will not give up their beloved paper. There is, however, no reason why another scheme should not be worked out which would dispose of the important question."

* * *

The Daily News city article of to-day says; "Among foreign stocks almost the only feature is a fall in Argentine Cedulas Series P being down to 15½ on sales variously alleged to have been pressed from Buenos Ayres, from Antwerp and from both places. We have a suspicion that realisations nearer home have also been pressed, this having been a favourable speculative counter, and speculators generally have been wrong. At the same time the present is little better than a "rubbish price" and Cedulas P, like Peruvian Corporation issues, are depressed mainly by the necessitous sales of financiers who were hopeful a month or two ago and are now impecunious if not less convinced of the future of such ventures. Uruguay Bonds are ½ down."

IRON MAKING IN THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

To the Editor of the STANDARD,

Dear Sir,

I have followed with great interest the correspondence published in your valuable medium upon the above subject, and trust you will allow me to add a few words.

Unfortunately, in this Republic true professions are at the will and mercy of everybody, from shoeblack upwards, and a pair of spectacles with a few books are sufficient to set up new professional men, capable of bringing wreck and ruin to the whole scientific world. Your correspondent, "Irony," has endeavored to enlighten the public upon the advantages and disadvantages of iron making in this country; but, without any desire to attack his abilities in another branch, I cannot but say that his good ideas and intentions are more likely to lead to erroneous rather than useful conclusions.

Mining is not a thing to be dabbled with by a mere book-keeper, even though he might have held that post under an iron making company.

I am of opinion that every new industry should be perfectly well studied before squandering large sums of money, but for this object more technical knowledge is required than that possessed by a good book-keeper. Many mining failures frequently occur, but are due, in most cases, to want of study by competent persons in the first place, and in the second, gross mismanagement and incapacity on the part of the directors and managers, together with the inversion of large sums in the purchase of plant totally unfitted for the minerals to be treated; but in the case of the Romay Iron Mine, I have no doubt that the investors will take the necessary means of proving the importance and extension of their iron deposits before entering into the question of plant required for smelting the ore. In this way, the enormous difficulties suggested by "Irony" may be overcome, and at a very small outlay, if a competent person be employed.

Yours, etc,
D'Artagnan

LADIES' LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Paris, 10th Jan.

The holiday season commencing with Christmas Eve, to terminate on Twelfth Night, continues to be exceptionally weather fine. This tells favourably on the giving and the receiving of presents, which means extensive purchasing, and so prosperous trade. Indeed, this general liveliness was much needed. Naturally, the standard for a merry Christmas and a happy New Year, with children, is the liberality of St. Nicholas. Now that nursery deity has done his duty; no lilliputian shoes ranged before the fireside on Christmas or New Year's Eve but have been visited by him; and their owners furthermore just received the toys their hearts delighted in, and that appeared to their bright eyes in their golden dreams.

Nor were the children of larger growth behind in the observance of all the festivities. They enjoyed substantial and merry suppers on Christmas Eve, and later in the new day there was plenty of skating, and looking at the skaters, which is the nearest approach to the exercise itself. Holly and mistletoe are becoming very general for season decoration in France. Holly symbolises good luck; the green is hope, and the spikes are a 'chevaux de-frise" against misfortune. The mistletoe legend is only applied to babies—a kiss of peace from gentlemen; but the babies can pass it on to their elder sisters, pending the installation of the custom of bestowing it first hand.

Christmas trees were very plentifully "erected" this year; they are the real "trees of liberty," having more or less large ramifications in confectionery shops and toy stores. Every minister worth his salt gives a tree-party to the children of all the employés in his department. Madame Carnot gave her juvenile "at home" to 200 of the poorest children of Paris. Landlords have even extended this kind of treat to the children of their tenants. And the children of the rich unite to present trees, full of not forbidden fruit, to their less fortunate kin. It is an early object lesson in human sympathy worth inculcating, and so is the recent custom of making a collection among pupils, on breaking up of schools for the Christmas vacation, for the benefit of boys and girls living in Bleak Houses. It is not more than a few years since children commenced to make one another presents. To that innovation must now be added the novelty of their exchanging cards. But the age of children, like that of chivalry, is past.

Many who have leisure give a juvenile party on New Year's Eve. The very young retire at seven o'clock, when a family dinner is served. After the dinner, dancing till half past eleven, when everyone retires to another room, and writes on a scrap of tissue paper a wish, to see a fond hope realized during the incoming year. Some solemn music from Chopin or Beethoven is executed till the sound of the first stroke of midnight. Each person lights their scrap of paper in the fleme of a candle, and allows it to burn out on a salver. If it be completely consumed before the last stroke of twelve, the wish on the paper will be realized. This short cut to good luck must have been imported from China.

The French, whether they like or not, mulct one another at this season heavily in social taxes in the way of gifts. Like all taxation, it produces sharp grumbling. Bachelors suffer most in this respect if they go into society, and the charitable might consider it a small atonement for their dogged single blessedness. If Christmas tide be for children and toys, New Year's Day is for adults when ladies sit in their drawing room for the receipt of "custom dues" from those who have frequented the house during the year. The bonbons inartistic, fanciful and extravagant boxes of 'sacs,' recall Falstaf's half-penny worth of bread to the intolerable deal of sack. Frequently the sugar plums are flanked by expensive bouquets. Other gifts will be regulated following intimacy, standing, and kinship.

The exchange of visiting cards is simply a nuisance. But as soon expect the extinction of poverty as to witness its abolition. It has survived the Bastille even, and will outlive all the forms of Government. Families send but one card to families; a convenient "collectivism." When a bachelor sends his card to a family he encloses two—for the husband and wife; but the card of the husband only is forwarded in acknowledgement. It is the true "creme" of politeness for a bachelor to deliver his card himself turning down one of its corners as a kind of "Bill Stumps, his mark" of personal delivery. Of course no widow or unmarried lady is expected to send a return card to a gentleman. Persons in mourning neither give—"blessed are they that mourn"—nor receive lolly-pops or flowers. As the cowl does not make the monk, so the costliness of a gift does not involve corresponding appreciation. It is wise to try and avoid common place articles, and to select those displaying individual taste and apropos. The common sense practice is extending of placing a cheque in the "corbeille de mariage" for the bride rather than a Japan tea-pot, streaky diamonds or a claret jug. It would simplify the circumlocution of the all round black-mailing, humorously cyclept gifts, levied at the opening of the year were cheques simply "crossed."

The ladies were always viewed as holding the keys of the French Academy; without the good will of two or three powerful blue stockings no candidate for the honors of literary canonization can expect to occupy an arm chair in that Walhallah. The same remark applies to the crack clubs of Paris; each has its recognized Ægeria, whose good graces must be won by any gentleman desirous of being admitted. They can black-ball with a scowl, or disarm opposition by a smile. An Ægeria powerful at one club is quite powerless at another. The Duchesse d'Esclignac may be said to have regulated the admissions to the Union Club, as the Baroness de Poilly inspires the voting for membership to the Rue Royale Club. Often these ladies exchanged their influences, as they had friends desirous of becoming members of either club.

Russia, which is rich in fetes, has only recently adopted the institution of Christmas Tree, and the innovation is limited to the upper classes. Ordinary Muscovite Society keep their Christmas season by private singing parties. There is a good deal of lead-casting to divine fortune. The molten lead is poured into a tub of water; when taken out and displaying the form of a church cupola, that means early marriage for the young lady; if the appearance of a rider on horseback such implies a commission in the army. Mummers are general where young men, accompanied by musicians, enter houses lit up for parties, where they are freely admitted, serenade and intrigue the guests and are given mead to drink.

It is in Vienna that the Christmas tree most flourishes; the number of fir trees sold in the streets suggests that Birnam wood has come to Dunsinane. On the tree are figures in sugar or chocolate of St. Nicholas and the bogie called Krampus. Gossip says the young folks prefer the latter, because always made in superior sugar. However, in any case one cannot commence too young to act on the precept—love your enemies.

The Bourtonnaic family in Périgord are celebrated for their hereditary stature and strength—boys as well as girls with beauty to match. The present Comte has two sons—the Vicomte and the Baron, and six daughters—the latter have been brought up like real American girls. The sons are credited with the ability to break a Cleopatra's needle across their knees, and their shake-hands necessitates the immediate services of a bone-setter. The elder son was once attacked in Paris by four roughs; he seized one of them and converted him into a cudgel to thrash the others. The younger brother was destined for the church, but as he drank off a bottle of brandy in a single draught his uncle, an Archbishop, recommended him to join the army, or turn an explorer. A drunken dragoon once placed his arm round the waist of one of the girls, when she turned on him and beat him so severely that he had to go to hospital and only left it a corpse.

What with the official holding back of dinners etc., and of the flight of the shivering section of society to the sunny South, to Algeria, but above all to Egypt, the Paris season may be said not to have yet commenced; indeed it is gradually being pushed to Easter, and must in the end be shunted on the London season. There is nothing specially new in winter toilettes. Astrakan and cloth are the materials on which all the changes are being rung. Fur is the rage; fur on dresses. The only difference consists in the value of the fur.

Astrakan is most general; a jacket of that is a necessity, and with toque to match, nothing can be more fashionable or more seasonable. The muff also is astrakan. Ball dresses in black velvet have the jupe trimmed with narrow bands of velvet, and the velvet is carried as edging round the opening of low bodied dresses. Pelerins and mantles are also trimmed with borderings of sable; cloth of a water-green shade is in much favor for dresses and jackets.

The hair is now dressed in the Greek twist with a ringlet on left and right to brave the battle and the breeze. Hairpins and combs are in tortoise sheil; blondes prefer the shell marble-streaked and the brunes the blond colored. However, the fashion has set in to dye the hair black—it will last as long as heretofore colors.

The toque hat is very general; it is preferred all round, and border a little raised. Trimming before or behind, following the taste or style of feathers. The head of a cock or a gull, with outstretched wings, is a favorite ornament. The large hat in beige felt with very large border and plumes in front is patronized by young ladies; velvet strings to match. Capotes are in velvet and cloth. Spot China crape is to be met with in ball dresses; but delicate shades of cloth, mixed with silk muslin, are the latest ball toilette. For general wear blue and green cloth.

CRICKET.

CORDOBA v. ROSARIO.

The above teams met on the Rosario grounds on Sunday, 22nd inst. Cordoba, winning the toss, sent Rosario to the wicket, Rosario making 94 for the first four wickets; then the Cordoba Captain made a change in the bowling by putting on Atkinson, left-handed bowler, who made the following unprecedented average in this country. He bowled 7 overs, taking 5 wickets, 4 maiden overs and 7 runs, the last two wickets falling to Griffin, thus getting rid of the Rosario team for 118 runs.

At one o'clock both teams retired for lunch, Rosario entertaining Cordoba.

At two o'clock Atkinson and Islop went to the wicket for Cordoba; Atkinson was given out, l b w, after a well-earned innings of 29. The next stand made was by E. Griffin, who made some brilliant hitting, ably backed up by the Captain, H. A Willis, these two batsmen raising the score from 41 to 112 before they were separated, the Captain being neatly bowled by Franklin, the next five wickets falling for 114 runs, Griffin being caught after a well-played innings of 65, Cordoba making 226 runs in 2½ hours, thus winning the match by 105 runs.

SPECIAL TRAINS.

Mr. Editor,

Apropos of the British Hospital Benefit given by Frank Brown's Circus, it has struck me, on reading the papers, as being very strange to find that, though the Northern, Ensenada and Western Railway were all putting on special trains to the Tigre, Quilmes, and even Moron respectively, the Great Southern did not think it worth their while to put on one to Banfield, Lomas, Temperley, Adrogue, etc.

Possibly the Great Southern may plead hard times and economical views; but surely three or four specials a year for the convenience of their daily travellers will not much reduce the dividends of the shareholders. It would be well, I think, for its managers not to pull the reins of economy too tightly, but to follow the example of their colleagues and consider in some degree the convenience of the "daily bread men" and their families, in doing which they would be studying the interests of the shareholders as well.

A Southerner.

RACING NOTES AND ANTICIPATIONS.

With to day's meeting at Palermo the racing season of 1891 is inaugurated, and, judging from the entries on the card, the year promises to be an eventful one in spite of the crisis. We cannot expect that any more animals of class will be imported, but the number of good horses, native and European, now in training is so large that a dearth of sport need not for a moment be presaged. As an example of this let us analyse the entries. Apart from the Premio Apertura which closed at the beginning of 1890 with 113, of which 78 are coloured on the card, the remaining 6 events have 86 entries ranging from 10 to 17 apiece, a most satisfactory state of things and of good augury for the future.

The task of the turf scribe at the beginning of a season is always a difficult one, for, during the recess many animals materially vary their form, some improving, others deteriorating. In this country, too, it is not easy to obtain reliable information as to the progress of the inmates of the various stables. This is by no means an unmixed evil, as it compels the true sportsman to base his selections on the make and condition of the candidates for hippic honours, and not from that undesirable source, a private tip obtained from a tout or disreputable hanger-on of the Turf, as in Europe. Consequently, it is with no particular degree of confidence that we anticipate the victory of the following:—

Premio Inauguracion — L'Aouzet or Phœnix.
Premio La Milla—La Florida.
" Apertura—Incitatus.
" Estimulo—Mariscal.
" Competencia—Midi.
" Celeridad—Falucho.
" Resistencia—Titan, in the absence of Camors.

Railway Items.

The local agents of the Gran Ferro Carril Central Sud Americano have submitted to Government for approval the plans of a proposed alteration in their line from Reconquista to the Pilcomayo. The alteration in question would be advantageous, inasmuch as a large area of low, marshy lands would be avoided, and an economy of 96 kilometres would be effected on the length of the railway.

The good people of Gualeguay are very much opposed to the proposed measure of the Entre-Riano Government to take over the diminutive Primer Entre-Riano. The Primer Entre-Riano, in the hands of a private company, has at present an excellent service and turns in every month a few hundred dollars profit.

Telegrams from Jujuy report great rejoicings on the occasion of the inauguration of the line to Tucuman.

The Fives Lille Company have sent a bill to the War Office for $7,750 for carriage of troops and special trains in October last.

The Contaduria General has approved the proposed tariff of the Villa Maria and Rufino Railway.

Mr. Fisher, Manager of the Central Argentine Railway, has protested against the Government decree of Jan. 10, ordering the company to build certain works at Martinez station within two months. Mr. Fisher shews that the works are of a very costly nature, and that the Government by its decree, has fallen into a mistake. He has solicited an interview with the Home Minister on the subject.

The plans of the Barracas Bridge have been laid before Government. In 1886 a decree was issued approving the plans of the bridge, which was to be built in conjunction with the syphon of the Belgrano Legacy. However, as it was found necessary to separate the two works, fresh plans have been made out by the Board of Public Works. The cost of the bridge is estimated at 228,055 dollars gold. It is urgently necessary to build this bridge, as the present provisional structure is not very safe for the immense volume of traffic.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The panting and perspiring population fairly danced with joy yesterday when the rain came down; but there was not half enough of it. What is wanted is something in the Deluge line, to wash away the last rose of summer: people are clean sick of heat and roses.

The British Hospital Benefit at Brown's circus on Friday night was the greatest success on record, and we believe the hospital will get $2,000 clear. There was not a box or seat vacant in the house, and some charitable gentlemen sold their seats at a premium and handed in the amount. As for the performance, it was excellent, and thoroughly enjoyed by the crowded audience. All the artists received a full measure of applause, and everybody went home happy.

The Club Europeen gave a nice "petite soiree" last night. We return our best thanks for the card sent to us.

At St. John's Anglican church the Bishop of the Falkland Islands will preach this morning, and in the evening "the Founder of the Methodists" will be the subject of the evening preacher. It seems that to-morrow is the hundredth anniversary of the death of John Wesley.

A cruel evening colleague says that, in spite of Lord Rothschild's last mellifluous telegram, there is

THE DIPPING SEASON.

Under the above heading, the following appears in a recent exchange:—

"Speaking of Dips themselves, perhaps the most significant feature in their "History is the way that the Old-fashioned have been superseded by the more "Modern and Scientific preparations. As Tobacco gave place to the various "Fluids" "and these again to the "Powders" so we find to-day these latter retiring before the "new Paste Dips. Of the many recent experiments we have witnessed in England and "the Colonies, the most successful were with an Arsenical Paste, manufactured by "Tomlinson and Hayward, of Lincoln, a firm that has always been noted for keeping "breast of the times."

"The advantages of the Paste over the "Powders" are many:—

"It does not make the wool dry and harsh, but leaves it soft and silky, giving a "healthy sweet smell to the sheep. Being, so to speak, already mixed, it is easier to "prepare there, being no waste nor loose "Powders," to fly about.

"As it is prepared with Carbolic it is lighter than the "Powders" and does not "so readily settle to the bottom, and for the same reason it is not injurious to the "hands. It goes in less space and is a more concentrated form than the "Powders," "thus effecting an economy in transport and labour. It costs less, and will mix with "any kind of water. In a word, it is the "Powders," cleared of their many inherent "defects, with their curative properties and good qualities preserved and increased. "Until the manufacturers make some better discovery

Saturday, February 28th.

The Bolsa liquidation to-day, when compared with that of this day twelve months ago, shews to what gigantic dimensions the crisis has grown within the last year. The February liquidation of 1890 was marked by the failure of Mr. Schweitzer, who was then bearing the gold market, and to complete whose liquidation it was necessary for the Bolsa liquidator to buy in at auction over two millions and a half of gold. Yet, spite of this most ruinous business for the gold market, the highest premium then was one hundred points under what it is to day. We all thought then that we were at the height of the crisis, and that things could not be worse, but with the light of to-day's liquidation we begin to see things of a very different color. The whole world then agreed that the great speculation on the Bolsa was what put up and kept up gold, but to-day we have no gold speculation whatever, no gold liquidation worth talking of, no auctions to buy gold to close up accounts, and yet the premium rules one hundred points over that of last year. The market to day was full of all sorts of rumours, and there appears some foundation for believing that in certain quarters paper money is getting every day scarcer.

The following shows the difference between the February quotations this year and last:—

To day has marked another quiet liquidation, and it is noted now that these settlements days which were formerly fraught with such intense interest for brokers and dealers are now devoid of even the shadow of excitement. "Tempora mutantur." No more bearish corners and stand from under collapses; no more knacks and midnight auctions; no more booms. The avalanche of the crisis has crushed all life out of the ring, and, as the speculation is extinct, stags and gutterpipes have vanished from the scene, leaving a few of their number to bewail the wreck of their blighted hopes; the brokers now pass the greater part of the time discussing in knots patent schemes to cure the crisis or else in "operating" on their neighbours. The only serious business done is in the hall where exchange is worked out, and even there business is only a shadow of its former self. Such is the dreary picture the Bolsa presents to-day, the counterpart of a year ago.

The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring:—

The liquidation, as was to be expected, passed off very quietly, and although an auction was called and five hundred Catalinas disposed of at 15.10, it seems that this was due to a mistake, there being no failures reported. Gold kept steady all day and closed with buyers at 346, while National Bank shares were also in good demand. The fall in Catalinas astonished everybody, as it was rumored that the company's creditors in London have granted a 'moratoria' for three years, which, however, has yet to be confirmed, and in the meantime, owing to the meagre receipts, the situation is now more unbearable every day. Cedulas kept very firm, M, N and O closing at 45 and

The Governor of Formosa has been authorized to spend a thousand dollars monthly during the current year on the construction of small bridges and repairing of the roads in the territory.

Articles of consumption continue to shew a marked advance in price, which is attributed to the high prémium on gold and small stocks in the market, the merchants not caring to operate on a large scale, in view of the great paralysis in business. Messrs Pietranera and Sievers, the well known comestible brokers, report a rise in sugar, although the Rosario Refinery and the Say Brand are both in the market, the former placing at the rate of say 1,000 bags per day. Yesterday 2,500 bags from the Refinery were sold at 8¼ dols. and bls. say at 8 to 8 1/16; the price now asked being 8½ per 10 kilos. Messrs. Peltis and Calzada have sold 515 bags from the Tacuarendi establishment in the Chaco at 7.30 to 7.50 per 10 kilos. Yerba from Paraguay has been well looked after, Messrs. Longua, Hernandez and Co. and Peltis and Calzada having realized their entire stock at 6.20 to 6.30. 300 barrels of Quilmes beer, which meets with great acceptance in the provinces, were done at 32 dollars. The Compania General de Fosforos sold 200 cases of matches No. 17 at 3.50 dollars per gross. Bremen rice keeps very firm at 3½ dollars per 10 kilos despatched, and the stock of Messrs. Lluck and Co., the heaviest importrs of this article, has been exhausted at this date.

Bahia Blanca advices announce the arrival there of 26 immigrants all bound for the salt fields.

The sale is reported of a part of the Oroño Colony to Messrs Phister and Lopez for 90,000 mp., seller the National Bank. The details are kept in reserve.

In the meat and hide market the following prices are quoted: Bullocks special meat stall at 26 to 30 dollars, first pick 18 to 23, second pick 12 to 17, novillo hides 9 to 11 dollars, cow hides 5 to 6.20, calves one year and upwards 7 to 8 dollars, calves sucklings 4.50 to 5. The prices shew a stiff decline, as no later than a week ago bullocks were selling as high as 38 dollars.

The following passengers have arrived per R.M.S. Trent: Mr P. Hammond and Miss Wiseman for Buenos Aires; Mr G Martin for Rosario.

The Provincial Bank rates have been altered as follows:—

Discount on "pagarés".....	8	o/o
" "letras	8	"
Overdrafts	12	"
Gold discounts.....	8	"
Deposits at sight, interest.....	4	"
Deposits on dates, interest.....	6	"
Gold deposits in a/c current...	2	"

Brokers reported exchange rather firmer to day, and bills passed at 48½-5d., 5.10 francs and 4.14 marks. The business done was, however, not heavy.

The Finance Minister has fixed 330 as the gold rate for Customs dues up to the 15th inst.

The following table of liquidation prices for months of January and February shews that whilst shares have continued to decline Cedulas have improved, all the series standing at a higher rate now than a month ago. This may be attributed to the belief now current in the market that an arrangement between holders and the Government is almost certain to be made:—

Advices from Las Flores announce a prosperous state of affairs in that district. For the first time in many years these camps, the majority of which are "bañados," are in splendid condition: the lowest lands are covered with rich and fine grasses, even in spots where not long ago there was a yard or more of water. It has been remarked that the water in the "juguelos" has fallen to an extraordinarily low level, and the old settlers think that this phenomenon is the forerunner of drought.

In the near South seventeen thunderstorms are recorded since the beginning of the year, a most unusual occurrence. Last week torrents of rain fell about Azul and flooded the camps for a few days. This took place at the time all were complaining of the blasting heat in this capital. Another thunderstorm burst over Las Flores five days ago, but the rain did not last long. The season so far is exceptionally favourable; all the low camps are in prime condition, and the cattle are fattening rapidly; cows and calves in general are in splendid condition.

The President of the Republic held a lengthy meeting with his Ministers to-day. Among others present were the manager of the Caja de Conversion and Señor Marenco, President of the Provincial Bank.

The miserable experience of the last ten years has proved to satisfaction that sheep cannot thrive in the low districts of the South. In Las Flores very few flocks are now left: sheep in fact have very nearly died out. All over the partido the traveller comes across abandoned sheep "puestos." Cattle are now the rage of farmers and there is no doubt that these camps are, as a rule, not suited for sheep. The losses in sheep of late years are simply enormous.

Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine Company, limited.

Cabaña del Rincon,
Propiedad del Señor Don Tomas Bell,
Estacion Pereira, 18th Sept. 1890

Messrs. Agar Cross & Co.

Dear Sirs,

I have great pleasure in reporting favourably of your "Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine." Up to date we have shorn upwards of 30) Lincoln Rams and Borregas, and find it quite up to our expectations. It is simple and easily handled, and in no way complicated or difficult to understand or work, and so far it has never been out of order. It shears the sheep beautifully it does them quicker and considerably better than it is possible to get them done by hand, and saves the poor animal a great amount of abuse.

I have timed our Amateur shearer here, and find he can shear upwards of eight in the hour. Consequently, I consider the Wolseley Machine one of the best patents I have yet seen, in proof of which I intend having some more put up at an early date.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM RIDDICK.

Self-Registering Recording Clock.
This clock serves to test employees in warehouses, hospitals, parks, prisons, etc., and in general for watching over every kind of undertaking, such as railways, factories, workshops, etc., also for villages, towns and cities and for police and custom house service. Not only is it a exact timekeeper but at the same time shows clearly at a glance the special watching service on which it is used. It shows on a slip of paper the hour and minute at which it started, how much time has been employed from one point to another, and in what direction the rounds have been made. As this clock cannot get out of order, it is an infallible inspector which cannot be influenced by anybody or anything, and also contributes to avoid conflagrations and other losses, and to prevent robberies, frauds and crimes.
